

COOKIE POLICY

1. WHAT IS A COOKIE AND HOW DO I DELETE THEM?

1. The University of Gothenburg (“we” or “us”) use cookies on our website. We are the controller of the personal data collected and processed by means of cookies on our website.
2. A cookie is a small text file which is sent to and stored on your computer, smart phone, tablet or other device that you use to access a website. Cookies are commonly used on websites and are often necessary in order for the website, or certain functions of the website, to work properly.
3. There are two types of cookies: session cookies and permanent cookies. Session cookies are deleted when you close your browser. Permanent cookies are deleted after a certain period of time.
4. By having cookies enabled in your browser and continuing to use our website you accept the usage of cookies in accordance with this Cookie Policy. You may disable and/or delete cookies in the settings section of your browser.
5. Please see sections 4 and 5 below for information about what cookies we use. Please be aware that we may update the lists of cookies used on our website. It is your responsibility to check this Cookie Policy each time you visit our website in order to find out if any changes have been made to the Cookie Policy.

2. PERSONAL DATA

1. Your privacy is of utmost importance to us and we take our responsibility to protect your personal data seriously. Please refer to our Privacy Policy for information about what personal data we collect and how such personal data may be used, your rights and other information.

3. CONTACT US
